"Lo - Pro" The Repubs Newest Excuse For Failure

omega4america.substack.com/p/lo-pro-the-repubs-newest-excuse-for

Omega4America November 7, 2025

Lo propensity voters are low propensity because Repubs suck when in power

The new Republican excuse - which perfectly feeds their national grift machine - is Republicans lose because they do not get their “low propensity” voters to the polls.

Nobody ever clued them in that voters become low pro when they think their vote does not matter because you are going to screw them afterward anyway.

Sure, the Lefties have have “never been more unpopular.”

Democrat voter identification is at an historic percentage low.

Crazy commies driving Lefty messaging from New York City will turn off the Chardonnay Moms.

The government shutdown blamed on Schumer - and America is at the cusp of a Golden Age - life has never been better.

This week, every election went against the Repubs - by spectacular, double digit margins.

It wasn’t even close - we are talking total blowouts!

The Repubs are looking for answers - never thinking to ask the key, existential philosophical, political essence question:

Do we suck?

Instead, the Repub officials aggregate around the excuse - our voters are low propensity so we need to:

- Have more grifters get paid millions to register people who never vote.

- Have a better “get out the vote” machine (using our RNC Data lists which are over 67% incorrect).
- Demand voter ID - even though most ballots arrive via the mail where voter IDs mean nothing.
- Spend millions of dollars in donor money cleaning voter rolls of people who have not voted in over 8 years.
- Ignore the growing citizen blowback that a foreign country smaller than South Dakota is driving our foreign policy and blackmailing our government.

Messaging is not the problem - results - performance - are the problem.

The Repubs control every lever of national government - and they are doing little of what they promised - none of the important stuff.

We aren’t going to review the pages of obvious material - Epstein, Seth Rich computer, indictments in jurisdictions where a conviction is impossible - a hundred other disappointments - you know them and you are enraged because of them.

We can use one great big category - Repubs disappoint their voters when in office.

Lefties thrill their voters both when they win and when they govern.

So this Mandami guy - he wins - bigly - and is doing the crazy stuff he said he would do - rent control, free subways, city owned food markets - he’s going for it.

Sure, you are over 40, you went to school, you know the commie stuff doesn’t work - in the end - and some of you - us too - slyly know it will all blow up in the NYC faces - with civics finally being taught - not as education but as catastrophe.

But that’s then.

We are in - now.

When the Repubs win, they never do the Red Ticket stuff - never.

Trump does - but he’s not really a Republican - he’s Trump - which is a different category.

The Repubs he appointed to office - you know which ones - are slow walking the Red Ticket stuff.

You may love Trump but you are frustrated he continues to appoint fewer Hegseths, Duffys, and RFKs and more of the other type - we won’t mention her name.

Then there is the real problem - the Senate and House, the RNC, RINOs everywhere - Lindsay Graham - Ukraine - long term, sticky legislative stuff not getting done.

Why the hell do we still have Obamacare?

You can count the days until November 2026 and you know the gutless House will soon shift into a courageous, action-oriented, make-it-happen House of Representatives - because the Lefties will own it and they don't screw around.

There are no Mike Johnsons in the Lefty House - they are all pretty much street fighters and they are going to make the second half of the Trump thing a mud wrestling contest - and they like that sort of play.

You are equally miffed the big elections continue to be dominated by mail-in ballots - us too.

In both Virginia and New Jersey the Twitter/X posts from the very upset Repubs who worked their butts off in those elections concern ballot numbers that do not seem to add up.

A lot more mail-in ballots came in - more than anyone expected by a mile.

There was disproportionate voter activity in the deep, urban - as in ghetto areas - which is where ineligible ballots always congregate.

No low propensity voters there.

The New Jersey and Virginia GOP officials never thought it might make sense to cut the cards - just once - and compare voter rolls with property tax rolls and stop mail-in ballots going to ineligible addresses - like a Walmart or gas station.

Here's what it looks like in deep RED Mississippi - imagine Northern Virginia or New Jersey:

They wouldn't think of it - because they are the brain-dead, RINO types who think this is 1957 - and they should call voters who will come to the polls - for the Party.

Neither state GOP did a thing about the scores of NGOs - funded by international Leftists - working street level affiliates to harvest ineligible ballots and vote them.

Here's one operating in both Virginia and New Jersey - and not a single GOP official in either state raised one issue:

Every one of those NGOs was in felony territory and the GOP just said - give millions to Scott Presler (this one: https://x.com/PatriotMarkCook/status/1986278960817447394) it is reported - and he will bring us home.

The one outcome we found most surprising is the Lefties believed the polls in both states and thought the election was closer than it was - so they grossly over voted their ineligible ballots - delivering 10 - 12 point spreads where 2% would display better manners.

One of the great frustrations this week is the realization there is no Trump after this one.

2026 is likely a Lefty sweep in the House - at least it appears so after this week.

If Repub Lo Pros didn't come out in 2025, why would they come out in 2026 or 2028?

What's going to happen from RINOs running the Senate and House that will change America in a big way - and get the Trump Coalition back into the boat?

You know the answer and that may make you a Lo Pro in '26 or '28.

Lefties control the election apparatus in every swing state - even ones with Repub Secretaries of State. In 2028, what's to stop Leftys from 2020 all over again - without a Trump at the top of the ticket - not much.

America needs to grasp the reality - Trump is a once-in-a-lifetime electoral gift, or curse if you are a Lefty - but the reality is well, Repubs suck.

They suck at governing. They suck at campaigning. They are blind to the overwhelming institutional voter fraud in many elections.

Republican legislators and Secretaries of State are cowards, they are RINOS in their souls, and whenever they can they will default to cowardice.

This week is a view of what's ahead unless you the citizen do what Leftists do - which is primary every one of these guys, every time you can, to get Trump-like officials into office.

We think you might suggest - like do not donate unless they do it - in every race - demand property tax rolls be compared with voter rolls and EVERY MAIL-IN BALLOT IS CHALLENGED IF IT IS GOING TO A WALMART OR OTHER ADDRESS WITHOUT BEDROOMS.

Republican officials aren't going to develop a spine - so you the primary voter, need to bring one to the Party.

Omega4America is a Substack newsletter about the application of advanced, quantum speed technology to government rolls. Portions of our proceeds are given to animal rescue charities.

Try our new newsletter about how we introduced a quantum-speed disruptive technology into the market: FractalComputing.Substack.com

Visit our new website: TheFractalGovernment.com

If your community is threatened by large data center development, fight back here, at TheSustainableComputingInitiative.com

JayValentine.com

You cannot follow us on Twitter/X because we followers are dropped by the hundreds. Follow us on Omega4America.com
12 Likes